Hi Lisa: thanks for the EOC work update and heads up about Roan. No worries, I'll have capacity to take this one back.

Thanks,

Phil and David,

This is an update from a short conversation I had with Phil on Friday.

I was called on Friday and asked to come in to help with EOC duties supporting the response to the Gold Kind Mine Release. I accepted since I had nothing pressing that day and I thought this was a one day request. It has turned into a longer term commitment. I am now on my 3rd full day of EOC work and it appears that there is a need for me to continue my duties related to this response for the next week, maybe longer. There is also a slight chance I may be deployed to Durango this week, or later depending on how the response progresses. That leads me to core workload.
